Projects

CS Portfolio Website github.com/karandeep6595
A personal computer science portfolio hosted on GitHub Pages. Built with HTML and CSS, featuring a CV (this document) and a showcase of technical exercises.

Python Programming Exercises

Entry-level Python programs covering control flow, functions, lists, and file I/O, developed as part of the B201 Computer Science Lab module.

Database Design & SQL Queries

ER diagram design, relational schema normalisation, and SQL query writing practised in the Databases module.

Data Structures Implementations

Python implementations of linked lists, stacks, queues, and sorting algorithms completed in the DSA module.

Soft Skills

- Teamwork & Collaboration – comfortable working in group settings, contributing to shared goals and coordinating tasks across team members.
- Communication – able to explain technical concepts clearly in English, Hindi, and Punjabi; developing German language ability.
- Self-awareness – actively managing workload through structured planning and task prioritisation to address challenges with time management.

Interests

Computer Science fundamentals • Software development • Open-source tools • Multilingual communication
